Regarding: FAI Gold Parachuting Medal Nomination for Awarding

Swedish Airsport Federation nominates for the Gold Parachuting Medal of the FAI Dr. Anton Westman.

Anton Westman Skydiver, Author, Med. Dr in Anaesthesia and PhD in Surgical and Perioperative Sciences. Anton Westman started to skydive in 1988 and has today around 2500 jumps.

Dr. Westman has been a successful sportsman at many national and international competitions, in 1997 he had a tenth place in Freestyle Skydiving at World Air Games, Turkey and 2004 a fourth place, World Cup Speed Skydiving in France.

In 2009 Dr. Westman got his PhD in Surgical and Perioperative Sciences.

Sport parachuting is a dangerous recreational activity for which available literature appears unsatisfactory to form a basis for injury prevention. The aim with his dissertation is to explore some risk factors in sport parachuting, to identify fatal incident and injury mechanisms for skydiving, to identify non-fatal incident and injury mechanisms for skydiving and to evaluate the validity of a compulsory reporting system among active skydivers.
