Getting around Chinese Taipei

4. Travel Essentials

- Time Zone

Taiwan is 8 hours ahead of GMT throughout the year, the same as Beijing, Hong Kong, Macau and Singapore. Daylight-saving time is not observed.

- Electricity

Taiwan uses electric current of 110 volts at 60 cycles, the same as the US and Canada, and the wall sockets are made for standard American two-pin flat plugs. Unless they're dual voltage (most cell phones, cameras, MP3 players and laptops are), all Australian, British, European, Irish, New Zealand and South African appliances (as well as those from Hong Kong and mainland China) will need a voltage transformer As well as a plug adapter (hair-dryers are the most common problem for travelers).
