Safe country

Map showing robbery rates per 100,000 inhabitants per year across Europe. The map uses different colors to indicate the number of robberies, with higher rates shown in darker colors. Notable areas with higher robbery rates include Belgium and Spain. The map includes a legend and a note explaining that robbery means stealing from someone by using physical force, a weapon, or threat. It is different from theft (without force) and assault (without stealing). The data source is Eurostat, 2019.
Safe city, Szeged!

- Decreasing crime rate, increasing safety
- Stable public safety
- In 2018 Szeged was the safest city amongst the most populated cities in Hungary
