International Gliding Commission

Proposal by Aero Club of Poland

It is Proposed:

To move the Women's World Gliding Championships to even years in order to balance event calendar.

This proposal affects:

FAI Event Calendar

Reasons supporting the proposal:

Odd years are very congested with first category competitions. Having continental championships, world junior championships and women championships it is very difficult for many teams to manage participation in all of them the same year. It's the question of availability of suitable gliders for national team members not only for competition period but for training first. Some financial aspects are also not negligible. Therefore we propose to move Women's World Gliding Championships to even years when only two major events take place instead of four in odd years nowadays.
