Future of Indoor skydiving competitions

In the last few weeks, the indoor committee with the help of other relevant people from the competitors and the industry, had a discussion about the future of indoor.

the fast-growing sport needs close attention, and we find that a plenary once a year to review the rules and needs is not enough.

The AE competitors pointed out many issues, from judging to the process of bid selections for future events, claiming that with the current situation and structure, they do not see a future to AE.

FS competitors on the other hand are happy and proposed rules changes to make indoor even closer to the outdoor competitions.

This subject requires further discussion and will be presented to the plenary afterwards.

Indoor world cup series:

- Discussion about recognition and outlines for big non FAI events as world cups
- New ranking system
