

Real Aero Club de España. Report 2004.

During 2003 we have again managed to set up the Young Artist Contest and have been able to spread the participation among more regions of the country although we have still not reached all of its corners and that is a goal we will keep working towards in 2004.

We have again been backed by our sponsor Aena.

The prizes were enhanced by being given away at one of the displays of Fundación Infante de Orleans.

We have started to make digital photographs of the winners of the contest so as to keep a collection of the different years.

We still encounter many and hard problems with insurance for Aviación en las Aulas, the Spanish Young Eagles Program.

We carry on with the ground program and will continue to do so. Now we have set a web site called aviacionenlasaulas.com to support the ground program with information and downloads.

This site also facilitates support for the EAA's Young Eagles in Spanish language with several downloads.

Several celebrations for the centennial have been carried out all over Spain including a celebration flight around the country in vintage aeroplanes.
