9th FAI World Junior Freefall and Accuracy Landing Championships
Montana – Erden- Bulgaria

IPC Jury Meeting No: Two (2)

Time and Date: 28th August 2018 13H30

Subject:

Award ceremony for the 9th FAI World Junior Freefall Style and Accuracy Landing Championships.

Details:

currently there are only 3 Nacs for the 9th World Junior Freefall Style for Female competition. The regulation stipulates that in this case the competition must not take place but that it is possible to suspend this rule by decision of the IPC bureau. In the case of a decision in favor of the course of the competition, there is also the question of the awarding of the official medals, from FAI, at the scheduled ceremony.

After a meeting with FAI Controller, members of the Jury, the Jury recommends to authorize an award ceremony for Junior Female Freefall Style competition, awarding the first 3 in the final ranking, by the title of "winner" of the competition without awarding the title of world champion for this event and without using the terms "world champion and world championship" at this ceremony. It will be not possible also to deliver a Female Junior Overall World champion, and the both events should be handled separately. The official FAI World Championships results should not include these 2 results however they can be listed separately, as Individual Junior Female Freefall Style and Individual Junior Female Overall Championships.

Concerning the official medals, the Jury recommends to give FAI medals even with the mention World Championship. It is hard to expect an organiser to provide different medals at the last minute.

The jury proposed to seek the opinion of the IPC Bureau. Depending on the circumstances, the jury will decide on what is mentioned above.

Decision:

After a written detailed reply from Gillian Rayner, President of IPC, the jury decides to continue the course of the Junior Female competition. The winner of this event will be awarded the title of "winner" of the competition and not the title of "world champion" The terms "world champion" and "world Championship" will not be used. Official FAI medals will be awarded and it will be established a separate list of results mentioning as Individual Junior Female Freefall Style Championships and Individual Junior Female Overall Championships, excluding world or world terms.
