Bucharest is the capital and largest city of Romania.

In the period between the two World Wars, the city's elegant architecture and the sophistication of its elite earned Bucharest the nickname of "Little Paris".

In Bucharest you can visit the colossal Parliament Palace, the second largest administrative building in the world after the Pentagon.

Local time UTC +2.

We recommend flying to International Airport Henri Coandă – Otopeni (OTP) .

Henri Coandă International Airport is only 14.4 km far from Radisson Blu Hotel.

As the main airport of Romania, Henri Coandă International Airport has ground transportation to multiple districts including the city centre of Bucharest.

The organizer will provide transfer from airport to hotel on arrival and hotel to airport on departure day.

Direct transportation to the centre of the city is offered only by taxis and the Express line 783 bus.

Bucharest airport taxi rides to the city usually cost around 15€ while the total trip should take approximately 20 minutes.

A one way ticket for the 783 bus to Unirii Square costs 0.85€ and considering the amount of stops and traffic condition, the ride might take 40 to 60 minutes.

The 783 bus is available 24/7 with varying frequencies during the day and night. The bus stop for the 783 line is located outside of the arrivals hall (OTP), in front of the exit doors. There is also a ticket machine along with the ticket public transportation ticket counter.
