3 ISC PLENARY MEETINGS

3.1 AUTHORITY

The Plenary Meeting shall be the policy and decision-making forum of the ISC and authority for any procedures or actions may only come from the Plenary Meeting.

3.2 TIME OF MEETING

Unless required by exceptional circumstances, the Plenary Meeting will take place annually no earlier than January 20 and no later than February 20. It shall be preceded by Bureau and ISC Committee and Working Group meetings so that, in the case of a physical meeting, the timetable for all necessary meetings shall take place over a maximum five-day period, which shall include a weekend. The first two days shall be for open and closed Committee and Working Group meetings. The third day, if necessary, will be for closed and any remaining open Committee and Working Group meetings. The Plenary meeting will take place on the final days. Should the meeting be held electronically, the schedule may be spread out over a longer time period but made up of a series of shorter meetings taking into consideration the different time zones of the participants. Bureau meetings during the Plenary period will take place at times specified by the ISC President.

3.3 THE SCHEDULE

The schedule for all meetings will be established by the President after consultation with the Bureau and the Committee and Working Group Chairs.

3.4 LOCATION

3.4.1 Location

FAI By-law 3.4.3 states that the ISC shall normally meet at, or in the vicinity of, the FAI Headquarters, unless the ISC votes by an absolute majority (>50% of all the votes belonging to Delegates present or represented by proxy) to meet in another place, which shall be selected by means of a vote on hosting proposals made by FAI Members or Delegates, that comply with 3.4.2 and Annex 6.

If there is more than one proposal on the Agenda that have been made in accordance with 3.4.2 below, a vote will first be taken to select, by absolute majority, the preferred proposal from among those on the Agenda. Voting will continue until one proposal has achieved an absolute majority. A vote will then be taken to accept the selected proposal, requiring an absolute majority to be accepted.

In either case, if an absolute majority is not achieved in the vote to accept a proposal, that particular ISC Plenary meeting will be held in Lausanne.

In exceptional circumstances, at the decision of the Extended Bureau, ISC Plenary meetings may be held electronically.

3.4.2 Hosting Proposals

Hosting proposals shall be made in writing by a FAI Member or its Delegate, must follow the format of Annex 6, must provide complete details in respect of the items listed therein and must include a signed Hosting Agreement (see Appendix to Annex 6) which will be signed by the ISC when the hosting proposal is accepted. Any hosting proposal not in compliance with the requirements of Annex 6 will not be considered. The hosting proposal must be submitted in sufficient time for inclusion in the Agenda for an ISC Plenary meeting in accordance with paragraph 3.7.3 below (subject to the exception in 3.8.3 below), so that a decision on the proposal can be made no later than the Plenary meeting held immediately prior to the meeting subject to the hosting proposal.

3.4.3 Costs

The host organisation will pay all travel and subsistence costs of the FAI staff member(s) directed to attend by the Secretary General of the FAI as approved by the ISC President.

Before making a proposal, the potential Host should be fully familiar with the provisions of paragraphs 3.2, 3.4.2 and 3.4.3 of these Internal Regulations.

When organizing an ISC Plenary Meeting away from FAI Headquarters, there are many requirements to be satisfied and prepared for. These include, but are not limited to, communication bulletins, airport pickup and delivery service, accommodation arrangements, local transportation, meeting rooms, secretarial services, equipment for document preparation, and detailed information on international travel connections to the meeting site.

The main requirements to hold an ISC Plenary Meeting are:

This room must accommodate up to 120 persons, have desktops or other suitable writing surface and will be used to conduct the Open Meetings held on the first three days and the Plenary Meeting on the last two days. This room must be equipped with a projector, a large projector screen, and an adequate sound system with sufficient microphones for comments from the floor.

If the meeting rooms are in a Congress Pavilion or other place separate from the accommodation, it should be within walking distance or a shuttle bus should be provided. It would be appropriate to provide a choice of three hotels.

If the venue is a state sport centre with budget accommodation, normally all participants will stay at this facility.

8 MEALS

Breakfast, lunch and coffee breaks must be included in the accommodation package offered to Delegates and Appointed Observers. Depending on location, the evening meal may be included but is at the option of the host.

Accompanying Persons will only be provided with breakfast and may be provided with the evening meal, but only if it is offered to the Delegates.

Any local transportation arrangements must be described or the proposal must state that meeting participants are responsible for their own local transportation.

The meeting participants are all from different nations, therefore many of them will not speak the local language. If possible, either an FAI Member representative or a well-briefed information service person should meet Delegates at the international arrival airport to direct them to the source of local transport which will take them to the accommodation and/or meeting venue.

10 REGISTRATION FEE

The amount of the registration fee must be clearly stated in the proposal as must the exact details of what will be provided within the registration fee. It must also be clearly stated whether a late payment or registration fee is to be levied.

The accommodation packages offered must be for up to 5 nights (with a minimum of 2 nights) for Delegates, Alternate Delegates and Appointed Observers, thereby making it possible for them to attend all or part of the scheduled meetings. The package period commences the evening before the start of the official open committee meetings and finishes with lunch on the fifth day (when the Plenary Meeting finishes). The accommodation/registration packages should have a fee per person for sharing a double room and a fee for a single room.

Information must be provided on the cost of hotel rooms for those arriving before the registration period or leaving after this.

11 BULLETIN

The Organiser of an ISC Plenary Meeting must issue an Information Bulletin no later than 120 days before the start of the Plenary Meeting. The information in this Bulletin may not differ from the accepted bid unless the ISC Bureau has given approval for any changes. The Bulletin must provide full and complete information relevant to the Plenary Meeting, including transport arrangements, registration, bank details, payment dates, etc. The Bulletin must be submitted, at least 30 days before the issue date, to the ISC Bureau for review and correction if necessary and, having received ISC Bureau approval, shall be immediately posted on the FAI/ISC web site, after which it may be posted on the Organiser's own web site.

12 FINANCIAL MATTERS

The registration fee will usually be paid by wire transfer to a bank. However as some countries may have problems with wire transfers, payment by credit card, money order or cash should be made available. The proposal may impose a payment deadline, after which a late payment fee may be levied. The proposal must state exactly what payment methods are allowed.
